TO RECOVER MONEY

Case of State Against Alma Bank to Be Argued in Federal Court This Month.

On the first day of the November term of the federal court will be argued the case of the State of Nebraska against the First National bank of Alma and others, a suit to recover certain money deposited in that bank by a state treasurer. The suit is brought against the bank and the persons who signed what purported to be a bond for the security of the money deposited by the treasurer in the bank. The principal guaranter is ex-Judge William Gaslin, who sets up in his answer that the money was not deposited according to the terms of the sited according to the terms of the bond, as there was a private agreement between the cashier of the bank and the state treasurer in which the banker promised to pay a higher rate of interest than that mentioned in the bond, thus relieving the security from all responsibility.

The case was called for trial at the October term of court at Lincoln. After the jury was sworn the attorneys got together and agreed upon a statement of facts which was signed by the foreman of the jury, the matter being submitted to the judge for a decision of the case on points of law. The case is considered of importance as showing the extent to which a contract can be altered by parole without releasing guarantors from responsibility.

J. W. Bryan of Lowder, Ill., writes: "My little boy was very low with pneumonia. Unknown to the doctor we gave him Foley's Honey and Tar. The result was magical and puzzled the doctor, as it immediately stopped the racking cough and he quickly recovered." Myers-Dillon Drug Co., Omaha; Dillon's drug store, South Omaha.

Hunters Return from Wyoming. City Electrician E. F. Schurig, Walter Stark and W. B. Craig have just returned from a hunting trip in the vicinity of Newcastle, Wyo. They were in the mountains about thirty miles from Cambria most of the time and killed six deer and a large amount of smaller game. Although the snow is about four inches deep in that part of the state Mr. Schurig says the weather was very pleasant and did not interfere in the least with their sport.

Omahs Boys Not Expelled.

A telegram from Chicago, published yesterday, stated that the parents of boys expelled from the Cuiver. Ind., Military academy had held a meeting at the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago to accomplish the reinstatement of their sons. K. C. Morehouse of Omaha was named in the list, and although Mr. Morehouse is in Chicago the statement in the telegram is misseading, as his son was not expelled from the academy. Charges of insubordination were made against 113 cadets, who were expelled, and ninety-three boys were retained in the school. Mr. Morehouse's son was among the latter. It was also reported that a son of Mr. Kipplinger was expelled, and this is also untrue.

After exposure or when you feel a cold oming on, take Foley's Honey and Tar. It never falls to cure, and will prevent pneumonia or consumption if taken in time. Myers-Dillon Drug Co., Omaha; Dillon's trug store, South Omaha.

WELL KNOWN CITIZENS TARDY

the Day with Voters Who Neglected to Register.

Senator John M. Thurston was among the first men who appeared at the office of City Clerk Elbourn yesterday for the purpose of swearing in his vote. Two freeholders of the Fourth ward accompanied the senator and made affidavit that they knew him, in accordance with the provisions of the law. Major T. S. Clarkson came from Butfalo, N. Y., to vote and was among the first men who appeared before the notaries cine to take. It will restore a healthy Phil E. Winter and many other well known tone to the entire system and thus prevent Omaha men who were prevented from registering also swore in their votes.

During the entire morning the clerk's ffice was crowded with voters who had fuiled to register and were anxious to make affidavits that they had valid reasons for not complying with the registration laws. Henry L. Cassell, 2230 Meredith ave.. 1.492 W. F. Wappich and George W. Holbrook, the two notaries appointed by the mayor to take the affidavits, were kept busy throughout the day and at 4 o'clock reported that more than 200 voters had qualified. More than half of the men who appeared at the clerk's office were voters who falled to understand the election laws and lost their votes because they failed to register and had no valid reason for not doing

I. J. Dunn tried to persuade the notaries that men cannot be allowed to vote unless they swear that they were out of the city all three of the registration days, but the notaries refused to put this construction on the law and held that if men who were in the city during the first two days of registration failed to register they should be allowed to vote providing they were out of the city or had other valid reasons for not registering the third day. Winter Evenings

renced suit in the district court to get possession from the city of a piece of land along the river front formerly donated for use for wharf purposes. Costello gave the property to the city a good many years ago when the river was extensively used as a freight route and steamboats were accustomed to tie up at the wharves. The petition avers that the city never made use of the land, and as it has not been opened for roadway or parks, a demand is made for its return to the heirs of the former owner.
